

Sam Chui has provided these images that show how busy New York's primary international gateway can be.

Right • As with many airports, construction continues at the airport with an extension to a pier at Terminal 4.

Left • Air China's arrival from Beijing, Boeing 747-4J6, B-2443 (c/n 25881), crosses over one of the main highways to and from the airport.

An Air India Boeing 777-337ER, VT-ALR (c/n 36316) taxis for departure. (All photos author)

'A View from Above'

JOHN F. KENNEDY INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT

Delta Air Lines is the main user of Terminal 2 on the left and an array of carriers at the International Pier of Terminal 1 on the right.

New York/JFK is the destination for Air France's Airbus A380 service from Paris.

A view across to the north from the central area above Terminal 8 to the freight hub.

JFK is the US destination for a number of European and Middle Eastern carriers including EgyptAir.

Below • An Arik Air Airbus A340 shares the ramp with an El Al Boeing 747.

Above • Three British Airways Boeing 747s share the pier with an Iberia Airbus A340.

Temporarily parked remote, an Emirates Airline Airbus A380 and a Singapore Airlines Boeing 747 – the latter now withdrawn from services.

